

Triangle School's Nancy MacDonald & Karen Siegel Honored With Proclamations

Triangle Elementary School's Nancy MacDonald and Karen Siegel were recognized at the April 26th Township Committee Meeting for their dedication and service to the Hillsborough School District.

Nancy MacDonald, named as Triangle Elementary School's Teacher of the Year, has been a member of the Hillsborough School District for 23 years. Ms. MacDonald started as a storyteller at both Triangle Elementary School and Woods Road Elementary School during her first two years, then taught second grade at Triangle School. She is currently in her eleventh year as an Academic Support Teacher where she works with struggling readers in grades first through fourth grades.

Ms. MacDonald has said it is extremely rewarding to see the progress and strides her students gain in reading from year to year, and she strives to encourage a love for reading and learning in her students.

Ms. MacDonald is involved in various committees such as Read Across America, Young Author's Day and Parent Appreciation and enjoys representing Triangle Elementary School at various out of classroom social events, particularly Foothill Acres Nursing Home.

Karen Siegel, named Triangle Road Elementary School's Educational Services Professional of the Year, is an Occupational Therapist at the Triangle Road Elementary School. Ms Siegel began her career 22 years ago working with adults at a Sub Acute Rehab and has been a member of the Hillsborough School District faculty since 2001.

Ms. Siegel feels very lucky to be working in the Hillsborough School District with the most amazing staff, children and parents and enjoys gardening, photography, biking, cooking and taking trips to the beach in her spare time.

The Mayor and the Township Committee of Hillsborough thank Nancy MacDonald and Karen Siegel for all their work and dedication to the youth of Hillsborough.
