

Hillsborough Recognized as 2016 Playful City USA Community

257 communities exhibiting Playability to be recognized as part of 2016 Playful City USA Program

"Hillsborough was honored last week with a 2016 Playful City USA designation for the first time," announced Committeeman Doug Tomson, Liaison to Parks and Recreation.

Hillsborough is one of five municipalities in New Jersey and one of 257 communities nationwide to earn this recognition. Celebrating its 10th anniversary, the National recognition program honors cities and towns across the country for making their cities more playable. This past year, the basketball courts at Ann Van Middlesworth Park were resurfaced and a new dog park opened.

Hillsborough Township maintains numerous parks and recreation facilities and numerous recreation programs and leagues. Also, recreational programming is continuously reviewed to offer the best and most popular sports and programs based on local and national youth sports trends. These resources, programs, and leagues provide countless passive and active recreation opportunities, and nearly 3,500 children participate in township-sponsored recreational programming annually.
