Hillsborough Township Ranks Among Safest Places in New Jersey

ValuePenguin Releases 2016 Study Ranking Hillsborough #2

“Hillsborough Township was ranked 2nd amongst Safest Places in New Jersey in the Big City Rank,” announced Mayor Frank DelCore at Tuesday’s Township Committee meeting.

“It is my honor to announce this most recent recognition that Hillsborough Township has received,” stated Mayor Frank DelCore.

The ValuePenguin Report released its “2016 Safest Places in New Jersey” in late August, naming Hillsborough Township the 2nd Safest Place in New Jersey in the city size of over 30,000. Value Penguin utilizes the most recent FBI Crime Report information to generate the rankings. To further address the variation between larger and smaller municipalities, ValuePenguin separated the safest cities into three categories: towns based on population between 5,000 - 15,000, midsize cities with populations between 15,000 and 30,000 and then larger size cities with populations in excess of 30,000.

“Being ranked among the Top Safest Places in New Jersey is a testament to the diligent efforts and prevention programs of our Police Department and Emergency Responders as well as the overall community involvement in Hillsborough Township,” commented Committeewoman Gloria McCauley, Liaison to Public Safety.

“I am happy that Hillsborough Township has been again recognized in this manner. In addition to the hard work by the Police Officers of this Department I must also recognize the commitment of our residents as well as the other Municipal Agencies for their efforts and dedication to public to safety,” commented Hillsborough Township Police Chief Darren Powell.
