Business Summit Deemed an Overwhelming Success Building Strong Partnerships with the Hillsborough Business Community

Hillsborough Township recently hosted a Business Summit at the Peter J. Bondi Building from 8:30 am to 10:30 am, which was open to members of the Hillsborough Business Community.

Township Administrator, Anthony Ferrera kicked off the event, welcoming guests and explaining the premise behind holding such an event. “We are here to assist you, the business community and the best way for us to know how better to serve you is to hear directly from the business community,” stated Ferrera in his opening comments.

Administrator Ferrera was followed by Business Advocate, David Kois. Kois outlined the agenda for the morning session, which lasted just over two hours. Following registration and networking presentations were made by various Department Heads that impact the business community including the Township Clerk, Planning and Zoning Official, the Assistant Engineer, the Health Inspector, the Chief Fire Marshal and the Construction Official. After the presentations, there was a roundtable breakout session where individuals were afforded the opportunity to ask specific questions of the Township Officials.

“Building strong communication channels with our business community will enable a more efficient and successful project,” commented Construction Official John Fiedler.

Rick Grosso said, “The Township has come a long way in the last few years and the Building Department and Engineering Department treat you right.”

“This was a great event and as a business owner this gives me confidence in the knowledge base of the staff,” said Gregg Wilke.

Brian Miller found the session, “very informative and a good program for businesses to understand the process.”

Rob Conforti said, “The open session was very good and helpful to be able to ask specific questions as well as to hear what others are experiencing. Additionally, there are many improvements being made within the Departments.”

“We will continue to utilize feedback from our business community to enhance our services,” added committeeman Greg Burchette, Liaison to the Hillsborough Business Association / Economic and Business Development Commission.
