Hillsborough Ranked Among America's 30 Safest Cities to Raise a Child Hillsborough Ranks 22nd

Hillsborough Township ranked in the top 30 "Safest Cities in America to Raise a Child", according to Mayor Carl Suraci at a recent Township Committee meeting.

"We are honored to announce that Hillsborough Township was ranked 22nd Safest City to Raise a child," stated Mayor Suraci.

The SafeWise Report released its "30 Safest Cities to Raise a Child" report on June 26, 2017. To compile this report, SafeWise reviewed reported sex offender concentration, state graduation rates, overall school quality ranking, and FBI violent crime data. Also, they eliminated all cities with fewer than 10,000 residents and those communities that did not report complete crime numbers to the FBI.

"We are pleased to be recognized once again by SafeWise. This recognition is a direct result of the professional and proactive police work by all the fine men and women in the department that are committed to serve our residents," stated Hillsborough Police Chief Darren Powell.

"While parents always strive to closely supervise their kids, it helps to have a community that's willing to focus on family-friendly initiatives that make the difference. These are the cities across America that make one of the toughest and most rewarding jobs you'll ever undertake a little less stressful," says Kaz Weida of SafeWise.
